
Early-exploration runs; see Appendix. On real data a price-only comparison calls sentiment harmful; on synthetic noise it calls the same arm helpful. Only the matched-noise comparison is right both times.